M. Combes, the New Premier, Uses Diplomacy in Selections.

Paris, June 7.-France has passed through a cabinet crisis and the Combes ministry has been formed without a ripple of excitement among | the general public, or even in the lob-bies of the chamber of deputies. Senator Combes was the first name men- + tioned as a successor to M. Waldeckloned as a successor to M. ## CHOATE TO ENTERTAIN KING AND OUEEN

London, June 7 .- The dinner which Joseph H. Choate, the United States ambassador, and Mrs. Choate will give to King Edward and Queen Alexandra will take place Wednesday, June 11. While the arrangements have not ye been completed, it is probable that Whitelaw Reid, the special envoy of the United States to the coronation and the members of his staff and the members of the regular United States embassy will constitute a large proportion of the guests. Doubtless it will be a brilliant gathering, as Mr. Choate's man-sion in Carlton house terrace is eminently fitted for entertainment on a lavish scale.

This unusual honor to an American ambassador causes much comment, and is interpreted by the Daily Chronicle as paying a "graceful attention" to Americans now in London, and as a tribute which is sure to be much appreciated by them as a nation. ## STOPPED CAR IN TIME.

Little Girl Narrowly Escapes Being Run Down on Main Street. The possible death of a little 6-year-cld girl by being crushed under a rapidly moving car was averted last night by the presence of mind of a motorman, on Main street between First and second South. The child, who was alone, attempted to cross the street in the middle of the block. She ran as rapidly as she could and dodged between the wagons and carriages. Pedestrians who saw the perilous position of the child tried to warn her of her danger. Heedless of their cries and of the danger she was in, she continued her journey. She had just reached the tracks when a Third street car, moving rapidly south, showed up only a few feet away.

People on the sidewalks, who had watched the child in her flight, shouted to the motorman and to the child. Terror-stricken she stood motionless on the track while the car came rapidly in her direction. Seeing the child and realizing the danger the motorman re versed the lever and applied the brakes. The car was finally brought to a halt a few feet away from the little one who was taken from the street by people who had seen her predicament. She was all alone and went sobbing down the street.

SALT LAKE-COOS BAY.

Announcement from Oregon This Road Will Be Built. Portland, Ore., June 7 .- The Oregonian tomorrow will say: It is now pos itively stated that a railroad will be strike which has paralyzed all building in Denver for the past two weeks, directly affecting 5,000 mechanics. It is not known what action will be taken by the employers' organization in regard to re-employing the strikers.

The calling off of the strike is said to be the result of an order from the National Building Trades Council Great Central Railroad company is au-Just to see her, trim and dainty, in her little gingham gown.

With a something less than heaven, perhaps, but something more than "yes."

Great Central Railroad company is authority for this statement, and he says arrangements have already progressed far enough to make the Coos bay-Rose-burg railroad a practical certainty. As the matter now stands the transcontinental interests back of the Salt Lake-Coos bay enterprise have first Lake-Coos bay enterprise have first call on the railroad to Coos bay until August I. If those interests shall not em it expedient to carry a transcontinental line that way, they will then be out of it and the local road will be built by capitalists interested in the timber of the Coos bay section.

A large tract of timber is now con-trolled by men working in harmony with the Empire Construction com-pany, the ostensible object of which any, the ostensible object of s to build the Great Central railway between Coos bay and Salt Lake. It the larger railroad project shall languish the construction company will build the local road and develop the lumbering industry between Roseburg and Coos bay. This was the end in view when M. J. Kinney of Astoria some time ago took an option on 96,000 acres of land owned by the Southern Oregon company.

The L. D. Kinney referred to in the above dispatch is the one who formerly lived in Salt Lake, and was instrumental in booming the sale of real estate in what is known as North Salt Lake and around the ill-fated copper plant.
